MESSAGE BY CHAIRMAN OF SINGAPORE OLYMPIC FOUNDATION, MR NG SER MIANG

In 2010, Singapore hosted the inaugural Singapore 2010 Youth Olympic Games (YOG). The Singapore Olympic Foundation (SOF) was then set up to inspire more Singaporeans to get involved in sports and enable athletes to fly Singapore's flag high on the world stage.

In the past decade, Team Singapore athletes scaled new heights. We were able to support their endeavours through initiatives such as the SOF-Peter Lim Scholarship. Recipients of the Scholarship represented Singapore at the major Games such as the Olympic Games, YOG, Asian Games, Commonwealth Games and Southeast Asian Games as well as regional and international championships. Through the Singapore Youth Olympic Festival, we continue to provide opportunities for young Singaporeans to compete and play sports.

It is only with your support that we can continue to spread the good of sport and promote Olympism and the Olympic values in Singapore.

Thank you very much for supporting us, in both good and bad times. We wish you good health and encourage all to keep your spirits high during these challenging times.

We will continue to serve in the best interests of Singapore sport. I hope you have a good time at the One Team Singapore Golf Day.

Ng Ser Miang
Chairman
Singapore Olympic Foundation

We're 18!

IT'S TIME WE GET SERIOUS ABOUT PLAY!

The Cage is now 18yrs old! As we turn into “adults”, it’s hard not to reflect on where and how it all started - we built a place we thought would be fun to play football - for ourselves :) Today, we now realise the power and importance of play. We now host football, cricket, fitness, corporate games, kids academies, Padel, basketball and so much more. And the more we learn about Play, the more we realise, we’ve only just begun.

We'll keep on playing.
We hope everyone does the same.

MESSAGE BY SPORT SINGAPORE CHAIRMAN, MR KON YIN TONG

It is always heartening to see the nation come together to support and cheer on our athletes, especially in the past year, as many of our sportsmen competed in their first major competition since the Covid-19 outbreak. We felt an immense sense of pride when Shanti Pereira reclaimed her 200m crown at the 31st Southeast Asian Games; when Boccia duo Aloysius Gan and Toh Sze Ning clinched Singapore's first gold in the sport at the 11th ASEAN Para Games; and when Singapore's most bemedaled Olympian Feng Tianwei became the first Singaporean to win the David Dixon award at the 2022 Commonwealth Games.

We should all encourage our sporting talents to aspire to compete on the world stage. So, while the Government invests in the High Performance Sport (HPS) system to groom and develop promising athletes, fellow Singaporeans like you and I can also play a direct role in helping our athletes achieve their sporting dreams. The One Team Singapore Fund was created exactly with this in mind.

Every dollar that you donate goes to investing in capacities and capabilities that make a positive difference. By joining hands with the government in this endeavour, we can enhance the athletes' daily training environment and competition opportunities.

Not many things have the power to inspire the nation and foster national pride in the way sport and Team Singapore can. Thank you for supporting our national athletes as they continue to inspire us and fly our flag.

I wish you a pleasant day ahead at the inaugural One Team Singapore Golf Day.

Chairman

INSPIRING NEW HEIGHTS

I just went for it and
I didnt look back.

JOSEPH SCHOOLING

On 13 August 2016, Joseph Schooling ended Singapore's 56-year wait for a second Olympic male medallist when he came in first place in the 100m butterfly with a Games record of 50.39 seconds. This was also Singapore's first-ever Olympic Gold medal.

It was a day to remember not only for Joseph, but also for Singaporeans as the Gold medal sent an important message to the nation and many other aspiring athletes, that no dream is impossible. In his own words, “Dream big and reach for the stars.”

The following year, swimming experienced a 24% increase in participation rates and ranked fourth nationwide as the sport most regularly taken up. In addition, swimming also achieved their best away results at the 2017 SEA Games with 24 Golds, 17 Silvers and 15 Bronzes, and at the 2018 Asian Games with 2 Golds (Both won by Joseph), 1 Silver and 3 Bronzes.

According to former National Head Coach Stephan Widmer, Joseph's Olympic Gold was the catalyst for the swim team's successes because “Joseph (gave) Singaporeans the belief that (they) can compete with the best in the world. Now you can see coaches believe, swimmers believe and it's a great momentum.”

ABOUT ONE TEAM SINGAPORE FUND

The One Team Singapore Fund (OTSF) was established in 2017 to enable all supporters of Team Singapore to contribute towards strengthening the High Performance Sport (HPS) system. It offers one-for-one matching grants, up to $50 million, from the Government for cash donations to support Team Singapore athletes. Donations to OTSF provide national athletes with additional support to achieve, perform and compete their best at the highest level of competitions.

To continue support for our Team Singapore athletes and to strengthen the HPS system, it was announced during Budget 2022 that the OTSF Matching Grant will be extended for another five years until FY2026.

Currently, there are seven HPS areas supported by the OTSF. They are:

- 1. Pathway Development - to strengthen developmental pathways for Team Singapore athletes;
- 2. Coach Development - to raise the expertise and professionalism of coaches;
- 3. Sport Science and Sport Medicine (SSSM) - for the provision of SSSM support;
- 4. Training Environment - to enhance the daily training environment for Team Singapore athletes locally or overseas;
- 5. Data Analytics, Technology & Innovation - to enhance competitive edge through the use of data, technology and innovation;
- 6. Management Capability - to strengthen capabilities to develop and implement multi-year sports plan;
- 7. Competition Opportunities - to enhance competition opportunities at the Regional, Continental, World/Olympics level and their para equivalent.

DEFYING ALL EXPECTATIONS

“ I want to tell people that if you want it bad enough, you can get there somehow. ”

YIP PIN XIU

Born with muscular dystrophy, a degenerative condition that weakens muscles, Yip Pin Xiu lost her ability to walk at the tender age of 13. Instead of feeling defeated, she was determined to show that she could swim like a dolphin. Now a five-time Paralympic Gold medallist and a holder of two world records, Pin Xiu blazed a trail for para-sport in Singapore when she won Singapore's first Paralympic Gold at the 2008 Beijing Paralympics. She is also the first para-athlete to enter Singapore's Sport Hall of Fame in 2015.

Pin Xiu is living proof that one's physical limitations do not define a person. Even at the expense of her condition deteriorating, Pin Xiu was determined to make something of herself and achieve her dreams.

She said, “I want to show Singaporeans that as long as you set your mind on something, regardless of your circumstances, you can find opportunities along the way and you can reach your goal.”

Also a former Nominated Member of Parliament, Pin Xiu is keen to make a difference to better Singapore's sporting scene. She said, “I hope to use my experience...to make our sporting culture a more vibrant one. I also hope to bring a fresh voice for youth and speak up for equality.”

CHASING THE DREAM

Dare to dream, and dream big.

LOH KEAN YEW

At the age of 18, Loh Kean Yew was so determined on chasing his dream of becoming a professional badminton player that he dropped out of tertiary studies to pursue the path less travelled.

And so he gave everything he had to hone his craft. At training, he was always looking for ways to improve his game. It is with this spirit of dedication and discipline that allowed Kean Yew to climb the men's singles rankings, before claiming the title of Singapore's first badminton World Champion in 2021. Following his historic victory, he remains a dominant force in the sport, rising to a career-high third place world ranking in November 2022 - the first time a Singaporean men's badminton player has reached the top three in the world.

Kean Yew's dream and goal always has been the Olympic Gold for Singapore. The Singapore Sports School alumnus once famously said this in a text message to encourage his juniors in the National team - “Set a goal, big enough for people to laugh at. They laugh because it's impossible for them. They're the weakling, not you. Work hard towards it.”

FOR DAD, FOR COUNTRY

In anything I do,
I want to win.”

AMITA BERTHIER

In February 2016, Amita Berthier and her teammates made history by winning Singapore's first-ever women's cadet team gold at the Asian Junior and Cadet Fencing Championships in Bahrain. The victory was bittersweet for Amita as this achievement came just three weeks after her father passed away at a workplace accident.

Since then, Amita has turned the personal tragedy to fuel her successes in the sport. Every time she steps into the fencing arena, she fights for more than just glory and the pride of her country, but also for her parents, who are one of her biggest supporters. “The fact that they had so much faith and so much support for me, I owe everything to my mum and dad,” she explained.

Despite her youth, 22-year-old Amita has already achieved a number of impressive and historic feats. By 2022, she had already won Singapore's first ever World Cup medal; two SEA Games individual golds; a world junior No. 1 ranking; became the first Singaporean fencer to qualify for the Olympic Games; and was named the Women's Foil Athlete of the Year in the United States.

However, the Amita has set her sights on even greater success. She is determined to continue climbing the ranks and to one day stand atop the podium at the Olympic Games.

NUR SYAHIDAH ALIM

Nur Syahidah Alim took her first shot in archery at age 18 and instantly felt a connection. Para-archery gave her the option to play the sport while seated, thus relieving pressure from her lower body. It was perfect for Syahidah who relished the opportunity to play sports but found it a challenge due to diplegia, a type of cerebral palsy that compromises her mobility, balance and posture in the lower half of her body.

Growing up, Syahidah's mother was determined to raise her daughter to believe she could do anything she wanted, and to never let her feel she was handicapped in any way. “My mum has had this perception that I should be prepared to be independent. There wasn't any excuse that I couldn't do it. That's how I grew up and it helped me to be who I am today.”

Syahidah has proven her talent in the sport over the years. In 2016, Syahidah became the first female archer to represent Singapore at the Rio Paralympic Games. Thereafter in 2019, she won Singapore's first World Archery Para Championships, and topped the Para Compound Women Open Individual rankings.

Life has not been easy for the two-time Paralympian and triple ASEAN Para Games gold medallist, but she has overcome all the odds to get to where she is today. “I believe that my past experiences and tough childhood have given me the perseverance and determination to succeed in anything I want to achieve.”

MAXIMILIAN MAEDER

Maximilian Maeder's love affair with kitefoiling started when he was six, after his father introduced him to the sport. After taking part in his first pro competition at the age of 10, he has not looked back. The 17-year old gained more prominence in 2021 when he snagged top spot at both the Formula Kite Youth (Under-19) World Championships and the men's Open title at the Formula Kite European Championships.

Max may be the new men's world No. 1, the current Under-19 youth world champion and a two-time Asian champion, but he is firing up for a bigger prize. With kitefoiling set to make its debut as an Olympic sport at the Paris 2024 Games, Max has set his sights on qualification and representing the nation.

"It is a goal of mine to represent Singapore at the Olympic Games, alongside my aim of becoming the best in the sport," he said. "I have always loved the idea of racing in sports and I want to become the world champion in kitefoiling."

Based primarily in Croatia where he trains five to six times a week, Max will be looking to stay on top and attaining podium positions to earn a coveted spot at the Olympic Games.
